

Dear Comrades and Friends! This is your invitation!

Please hold the date, Sunday, October 17, 2021.

From our observation, many cultural workers are horrified by the fascist offensive taking place in the United States and, indeed, worldwide. Many of us are producing work to oppose the offensive, many are reaching out to form cultural organizations to respond. We need to come together, draw strength from each other, and launch an offensive for the kind of society we need, not just to survive, but to become fully human. There has never been a more dangerous and yet opportune moment. That is why the League of Revolutionaries for a New America (LRNA) is hosting a conference of revolutionary cultural workers.

We are devastated to report that, just a few days ago, Jack Hirschman, Emeritus San Francisco poet laureate and long-time cultural worker, passed away. He was, of course, the originator of the idea for this conference. So it makes absolute sense for us to hold the conference in his honor and to celebrate his life and work.

More information will be forthcoming as planning proceeds.

The Conference will be held remotely, using the Zoom platform.

THERE IS NO REGISTRATION FEE FOR THE CONFERENCE.

However, registration is necessary to attend and participate in the conference.
